I buy a new one of these about every 4 years to roughly evaluate my collection's value. I also use a couple of other books. Prices vary regionally and one book often doesn't agree with another but pictures do help when trying to identify guns at auctions that at times even the auction house doesn't know what it is. This book helps in some cases. There is no book comprehensive enough to cover it all.

I think some of the prices in this Catalog of Firearms are too LOW! Example: NIB Remington 700 BDL shows $500.00. There is no place that you can buy a new in the box 700 bdl for $500.00. In the 2009 Catalog of Firearms the NIB Remington 700 BDL shows at $715.00. This just makes me wonder how accurate other prices are in the 2016 Catalog of Firearms. I have been buying these books for the past 15 years and as a reference they are great.

Generally very helpful, but you need knowledge beforehand to use it. As in past editions, some of the pictures are mislabeled. But generally the strength of this book is that it shows pictures of many firearms making identification easier. Where it sometimes runs into trouble with mislabeling pictures is when there are multiple models of the same gun, such as with the Winchester 1885 Single Shot.

I get this catalog every year for my father for Christmas and have gotten it for him for the last 8-9 years. This year, however, a couple of pages fell out when he first opened it. It's a big book but pages shouldn't fall out when you first open it. I was disappointed about that. However, it's a very informative book for avid gun collectors.

Great reference - like the Golden Retriever video guide for guns. Brief descriptions and NIB to poor prices for thousands of firearms.

Bought this for my dad. He said it was just what he was looking for in a gun guide. Love the fact that it is 2016.

Great great book but some of the prices are a little inaccurate but gives a very good general idea

This book has everything in it . A good reference catalog to have.
